Tamlex and Compass Electrics In the right direction

Leading electrical goods retailer, Marks Electrical, have expanded into new premises in Beaumont Leys, Leicester as part of a total refurbishment programme. Nominated installation contractors Compass Electrics chose Tamlex of Telford for their steel cable management supplies. As a UK family owned and local manufacturer Tamlex were able to quickly carry out a site visit and discuss with the client and the installer exactly what was required including advice for any special areas that needed suitable solutions.

Wire basket tray from Tamlex was used throughout for all overhead cable containment. Available in three metre lengths and widths ranging from 50 to 600mm the 4.00mm wire tray is sufficiently lightweight to fabricate bends on-site but suitably strong offering an ultimate tensile strength of 70kg/mm².

"The on-site service from Tamlex has been excellent", said Andrew South of Compass, "and the products are great value for money".

In addition to selling from their Leicester showroom, Marks Electrical are also online resellers and use their own fleet of vehicles to deliver nationwide.
